Captain Brady's Famous Leap.

Sketch Written by Judge Moses Hampton.

[From the People's Monthly.]

In pursuance of your request, I furnish you the following sketch of the celebrated leap of Captain Sam. Brady across a river when pursued by the Indians. This narrative was originally prepared at the instance of Judge Wilkins, but never having been in print, I trust it may prove of some interest to your numerous readers:

Having heard of "Brady's leap" from childhood, I have taken some pains to obtain all the facts within my reach which might tend to shed light on the subject. The only documentary evidence I have been able to procure is found in a small work entitled "Historical Reminiscences of Summit County, by Gen. L. V. Bierce," of Akron, Ohio, which was sent to me by the author in 1856, in answer to a letter of inquiry addressed by me to him, seeking for information on the subject.

His statement is very brief, and I copy it entire: "As I remarked on a former occasion, the Cuyahoga river, Portage Path and Tuscarawas branch of the Muskingum, were originally the boundary between the Six Nations and the Western Indians. The Onondagas, Oneidas, Mohawks and others of the Six Nations resided in the territory until the difficulty with Diver in 1806. There was, on the first settlement of the country, an Indian trail, commencing at Fort McIntosh, at the mouth of Big Beaver, and running from thence west through Portage county, crossing the Cuyahoga in Franklin, at what is called the Standing Rock; thence west to Northampton in Summit county, where there was a settlement of Indians; thence to Sandusky and Detroit. This trail was the great Indian thoroughfare from Detroit to the Ohio river. On it were also constantly passing large parties of Indians, and it became, of course, the favorite hunting grounds of these Western Nimrods. The Indians were as ready as they for the encounter, and a war of extermination commenced. In 1780 a large party of warriors from the villages on the Cuyahoga had crossed the Ohio and made an incursion into the white settlements, murdering several families, and taking away a large amount of plunder.

"Brady called together his band and started in pursuit. He led on the men, guided more by courage than discretion, until he entered the Indian village on the Cuyahoga river, in what is now Northampton. The Indians, expecting pursuit, were prepared for him, and with numbers four times his own, attacked him on all sides, and, with his followers, he was put to a perfect rout. The retreat became a flight, and every man was for himself. The Indians singled out Brady, and leaving all the rest, a chase commenced for him, which continued without interruption till he arrived at the Cuyahoga river in Franklin, just north of the present location of the bridge on the road to Ravenna. The Indians had extended their lines so as to hem him in, and with loud shouts of triumph, thought their prisoner safe. The river was here bounded on each side by perpendicular rocks, the chasm being 22 feet wide. Brady, on reaching the river, gave a bound that despair on one side and hope on the other alone could have effected; and clearing the abyss, he gained the opposite bank."

This statement, I have no doubt, is substantially correct as far as it goes, but it is by no means full and complete. Having been on the ground and examined it carefully; and from inquiry in the neighborhood as to the tradition among the first settlers, as well as from information derived from my father fifty years ago, I believe the following additional facts to be true:

The place where Brady leaped across the Cuyahoga river is at a little village called Franklin Mills, six miles west of Ravenna, the county seat of Portage county, Ohio, and within about two miles of the railroad leading from Pittsburgh to Cleveland. Both above and below this place the banks are low, and the stream easily forded at any ordinary stage of water. But for the space of perhaps a half mile or more, the ground ascends on either side of the river, by a gentle rise for the space of half a mile.

The geological formation is that of gray sandstone, and the Cuyahoga river at this point passes, for some distance, through what seems to be a fissure in the rock, caused by some internal convulsion of nature. This fissure, I was credibly informed, is about thirty feet deep, and at the point where Brady jumped, the rock projected a short distance over the abyss. The distance he leaped, as I was informed when last there in 1856, was 27 feet 6 inches, on a dead level, or horizontal line. General Bierce says it was 22 feet. Whether the tradition, as given to me, or General Bierce, be the better authority, I will not undertake to decide. I did not measure it, because the projecting rock on the east side was cut away in making the tow path along the bank, as this part of the river is used for slackwater navigation on the Cross-Cut Canal to Cleveland.

The engagement with the Indians took place a few miles west of this place, and after the defeat of Brady, and the rout of his men, the Indians, abandoning the latter, singled out the former as the man above all others they most feared, and most desired to capture. They extended their lines up and down the river, so as to hem him on to the brink of the fearful abyss, not anticipating for a moment that he would attempt to leap across it.

As they approached the river the descent was long and gradual and the timber open; and although Brady could run as fast as his savage pursuers, he soon discovered that their lines were too long to enable him to pass either end. They could easily have shot him, but they desired to take him alive that they might wreak their vengeance, by their choicest mode of torture, for the many injuries they had sustained at his hands. As they approached the river, being now sure of their prey, they called on him to throw away his gun or they would have him. He took their advice, threw away his gun, shot-pouch and powder horn, but not for the purpose, as they vainly supposed, of surrendering himself to their savage cruelty, when he might reach the bank of the river. It was for the purpose of freeing himself from encumbrances, that he might be the better fitted to accomplish the dreadful leap he had resolved to take, and accordingly when he reached the brink he bounded over the fearful chasm, and landed safely on the other side.

The Indians were so close upon him, that, while recovering from the shock of landing on the rock, and before he was able to get into the bushes, they fired upon him now that he was likely to make his escape. A ball took effect in the fleshy part of the thigh, but did not disable him from running. He made directly for a small lake, which was northeast of that point about two miles distant. This lake bears the name of "Brady's Lake" to this day.

The Pittsburgh and Cleveland Railroad passes over a narrow neck of land which divides this from another lake, about four miles northeast of Ravenna. These lakes, from their close vicinity, are sometimes called the "Twin Lakes," and may be seen and recognized by any traveler. That one on the west side of the Railroad is "Brady's Lake."

Being perfectly familiar with the habits and customs of his enemies, and knowing they would never relinquish their pursuit so long as the slightest hope of success remained, and he was bleeding quite freely, he knew they could trace him by his blood, he found a tree that had fallen into the lake, at a place where the shore descended very gradually where the water lily, which has a very large leaf, covered the surface of the water for a considerable distance. He got on this log and went along to the top of the tree, then stepped into the water and crawled away some distance, where he found the water shallow enough to enable him to lie down on his back, with his face merely above its surface, but completely concealed from observation, by the large leaves of the water lily.

His pursuers, afraid to risk the fearful leap, and unwilling to give up the pursuit, went down the river to a point where they could cross with safety. On making the point on the other side where Brady landed, they took his trail and followed it by his blood to the lake, then along the trees to its top, they then searched the water for some distance, but failing to find him, they concluded he had plunged into the deep water and drowned himself rather than fall into their hands.

They then returned to take a more careful survey of the spot where this extraordinary feat of agility had been performed. After carefully contemplating the whole scene, and being unwilling to admit, (and this is a well known trait of Indian character), that any white man can excel an Indian in feats of activity, they gradually came to the conclusion that he was not a man, but a turkey and flew across, saying, "he no man, he turkey—he flew!" and in order to commemorate that fact they carved on a rock close by a rude representation of a turkey's foot.

This remained there an object of curiosity to hundreds of persons, travelers and others, till the summer of 1856, when, being at that place on a visit to some relations living there, and finding the rock was about being quarried and converted into building stones, I obtained permission to have a block cut out containing this turkey's foot, which I brought home, and, until quite recently, had it in my possession.

After remaining in the water until he was satisfied his enemies had entirely given up all hope of finding him, and had left the lake, Capt. Brady made his way to the place, or near there, where the town of Ravenna now stands, which had been agreed upon between him and his men, before they reached the Indian encampment, as the place of rendezvous, in case they should become separated. He then met what few of his followers had escaped the fury of the savages, and as his wound was not very serious, after a long and wearisome march they finally reached the settlement south of the Ohio river in safety.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 20th, 1873.

—The Coopers' International Union met in St. Louis yesterday. Delegates from every State in the Union and from Canada, including several colored men, were present. The business was confined to preliminary work, reading of the annual message of President Faran, admitting delegates, &c.

—Charles P. Kimball, President of the Carriage Builders' National Association, issues a call for a second annual convention of the association, to meet at the St. Nicholas Hotel, New York, on Wednesday, November 19th, and invites all carriage builders in the United States to join them.

—The survivors of Captain Jack's tribe who are not imprisoned at Alcatraz will be started for Fort Russell, Wyoming Territory, about the 10th of Ocotber.

POLITICAL.

FAYETTE COUNTY.

Isaac W. Rutter, indicted in this county, in company with Nichols, a colored man, at April sessions, 1865, for stealing a bag of clover seed at the Gap, in this county, is, we understand, the same Isaac W. Rutter now the Democratic candidate for County Commissioner of Fayette county. John B. Livingston, now the President Judge of our Courts, was our District Attorney at the time, and has kept his eye on this case, and the indictment is still alive. Although Isaac has twice absconded, and his bail once paid his recognizance into the county treasury, Lancaster county still claims the right to the appearance of this aspiring Democratic Commissioner to answer before a Lancaster county jury.

We beg leave further to state that the Court has refused up to this time to allow the colored man to be tried in the absence of his Caucasian partner in crime, and now the Democratic candidate for the important office of County Commissioner. Truly, this man is a fit candidate of a party which claims to be par excellence, the "white man's party."

We understand a certified copy of the Court record has been applied for, and has been transmitted to Fayette county for the information of the voters. It remains to be seen if he is not, in spite of his crimes, a "model" Democrat, and good enough to minister affairs for the tax payers of Fayette county.—Lancaster Examiner.

CAMBRIA POLITICS.

The near approach of election day has had the effect of making matters and things political in Cambria county extremely lively. The chief fight, of course, centres in the Assemblyship. Esquire Seanlan, the Democratic nominee, will run a fair vote, but we believe it to be conceded that Hon. Sam Henry will be re elected by a majority at least as large as that received by him last fall. Mr. Thomas Griffith, the Republican candidate for Treasurer, will run his Democratic competitor closely, if, indeed, he be not elected. The balance of the Democratic ticket will probably be elected by the usual majorities. As in Blair, the "quiet campaign" system is being pursued. No public meetings have been held, and none will be held.—Altoona Tribune.

U. S. SENATOR.

The fight in Huntingdon county between the Scott and Woods factions of the Republican party is attracting the attention of the politicians all over the State. In the event of the defeat of Senator Scott's friend for the Legislature, there will be a contest for his seat in 1874. Western Pennsylvania will present a number of candidates, and Hon. John Allison, late of Beaver, now of Mercer county, will start ahead in the race.—Beaver Argus and Radical.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Judiciary Article on Third Reading.

On Friday afternoon the Constitutional Convention went into Committee of the Whole on the Judiciary Article, and after considerable discussion passed the following section:

"In the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny all jurisdiction and power now vested in the District Courts and Courts of Common Pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in four and in Allegheny in two distinct and separate courts of equal and coordinate jurisdiction, composed of the Judges of each; said Courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as Court of Common Pleas number one, number two, number three and number four, and in Allegheny as Court of Common Pleas number one and number two; but the number of said courts may be by law increased from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers; the number of Judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased from time to time; and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three Judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. All suits shall be instituted by the said Court of Common Pleas, without designating the number of said courts, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by the rules of the courts, and each court to which any suit shall be thus assigned shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law."

Mr. Purviance, of Butler, moved to reconsider the vote by which the fifth section was passed, stating that he had ascertained that it was not satisfactory to the members of the Philadelphia bar. Not agreed to.

General White, of Indiana, moved to go into Committee of the Whole to strike out the words "five hundred" after "forty thousand" in the same section. Agreed to, and the section was so amended that when a county shall contain 40,000 inhabitants, it shall constitute a separate judicial district, and shall elect one Judge learned in the law. After discussion, participated in by Messrs. MacConnell, Hay and T. H. B. Patterson, the section relating to the Aldermanic system of Allegheny county was stricken out.

On motion of Mr. Lamberton, the section defining the jurisdiction of Common Pleas Judges was reconsidered.

KEYSTONE BREVITIES.

THE Huntington Presbytery met at Alexandria on Tuesday the 7th instant.

CHARLES K. DAVIS, of Blairsville, fell from the roof of a new building in that place, a distance of thirty feet, on Saturday morning, and broke his arm in two places and his nose was also broken. It is also feared he is injured internally.

THE boiler on the Emerson & McClaud well, on Riddle farm, Karns City, exploded Sunday evening. The report was heard for miles around. Some parts of the boiler were thrown over a thousand feet from the well. The well is the same on which a boiler exploded last week. No one injured.

WE learn from the Miners' Journal that the Palo Alto rolling mill have suspended operations, thus throwing about two hundred men out of employment. The same paper adds that the Port Carbon puddle mill, merchant mill and spike factory, owned by Col. Boyer, have been suspended. Quite a number of men are thus thrown out of employment.

THURSDAY night last, a mining accident happened in the ore mines of Mr. Samuel Biddenbenner, of Sleshoitzville, Berks county, which are operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co. It seems that Mr. James Dalton and another man were engaged in mining, when the ground above them caved in and literally buried them. By great exertions the partner of Dalton was rescued, leaving the other a lifeless corpse in the pit.

THE Derrick learns that suits have been commenced against the Allegheny Valley Railroad for damages for the injuries inflicted on the son of Asa Say, of Oil City. The boy, it will be remembered, was run over by an excursion train to Franklin last fall, during the Presidential campaign, in consequence of which he lost an arm. Damages are laid in the sum of $50,000, being $20,000 for personal loss to the son and $30,000 in the name of the father.

As workmen were engaged Monday afternoon in excavating for a gas pipe under the engine house of the Modoc well, at Modoc, owned by Taylor & Catfield, the pipe exploded, and the gas igniting, burned the engine house entirely down. The engineer was badly burned about the feet and legs, but escaped without further injuries. It was feared for a time that the derrick would be consumed, but through the exertions of the citizens and workmen, it was happily saved.

WE regret to state that the extensive iron works of Messrs. Reis, Brown & Berger, of Lawrence county, excepting the furnaces, have been stopped. The local papers say: We trust that by next week we will be able to announce that they are again in operation. A permanent closing of these works at this season of the year would not fail to carry untold misery to the hearths and homes of hundreds of families in and about New Castle. We repeat, we hope the suspension will be but temporary.

A BRUTAL murder was committed in Jefferson county, near Kregsville, on Monday week last. The victim was a boy named Jacob Mutfley, aged about ten years, who was staying with Mrs. Hawk, his grandmother. Mrs. H. went off to dig potatoes, leaving the lad in charge of the house. On her return in the evening she found the house locked, and being alarmed at the circumstance, called the aid of some of the neighbors. An entrance was effected into the building, when a search was made, and the dead body of the boy found in the cellar with his throat cut from ear to ear. A lot of clothing being missed from the house, robbery was supposed to be the incentive to the murder. Suspicion rests upon a person in the neighborhood, but no arrests have yet been made.

OHIO ITEMS.

ALL the counties in Ohio have made settlements with the State.

THE Central Ohio Fair, to be held at Orville, on October 15, 16 and 17, promises to be a grand affair, and we wish the managers deserved success.

ON last Monday evening a son of John McConnell, of Alliance, who was handling a pistol, when having it turned toward him, he accidentally discharged the contents into the upper part of his stomach. Although the wound is very severe, it is hoped it will not prove fatal.

AT the fair at Bucyrus, on Thursday, Jno. Bade entered a side show and handed a bear a cracker. Some little boys had previously been teasing him and his bearship was wrath and snapped his hand, sending the teeth through in several places. The wounded man seems to bear it bravely.

A FOUR YEAR old child of Joshua Simons, of Poland, Mahoning county, on Wednesday, while playing about the house, placed a bean in its mouth, and in attempting to swallow it, strangled. Before the bean could be removed the little one died, fifteen minutes not having elapsed from the time the child placed the bean in its mouth until death ensued.

MICHAEL ZANZENBADER, born at Weiler, in the kingdom of Wurtemburg, Germany, is wanted. He can be rich if he so wills it. He is reported in Germany to have been living in Springfield township, Mahoning county, Ohio, some time ago. There is a considerable sum of money on deposit for him in one of the German banks, left him by a near relative, several years since. This has accumulated rapidly, and is now sufficient to put Michael on a solid financial basis. Where is he? is now the question. He came to this country in 1821. Information of himself or heirs, or other relatives, should be sent to Mr. E. Ritter, Youngstown, O.

Theological Section.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The Theological section of the Evangelical Alliance assembled at the usual hour this morning in Association Hall, and after the singing of hymns and prayer, accepted invitations to visit the Princeton Theological Seminary, to take a trip over the Erie Railroad to Niagara Falls, to partake of the hospitalities of the city, and to inspect the working of the public schools.

The general topic of discussion was "Christian Life." Rev. Dr. Smote, of Edinburgh, chiefly confined himself to showing the fallacy of those who would exalt charity at the expense of a dogma.

"Personal Religion" was the subject of a paper read by Rev. R. Fuller, D. D., of Baltimore. He referred to the superstitions, impostures, pageantry and nunneries of the Church of Rome, that master piece of human craft, as a substitute for personal piety, and which exerts an influence on the people because the imagination is stronger then reason.

The audience applauded Mr. Fuller so loudly and frequently that he was compelled to request them to be less demonstrative in their appreciation for him. It was very painful to have to treat of things of Rome.

The morning session was brought to a close by an address from Dr. Nast, of Cincinnati.

Philosophical Section.

Rev. Dr. Foss called the Philosophical Section of the Alliance to order St. Paul's church, and Hon. Charles Read, M. P., was made chairman.

Rev. J. H. Riggs, D.D., of Wesleyan Training College, of Westminster, England, read a paper on "Modern Literature in its Relation to Christianity," taking what is called a purely European view of the question.

Dr. Potter delivered an address on the same subject.

The invitations given to the Theological section were extended to the Philosophical section, and the session was adjourned till evening.

Third Section.

At two P. M. the Third section of the Evangelical Alliance met in Dr. Adams' church, Madison square. The church was filled to the doors. The floor was reserved for delegates and reporters, the north gallery for theological students, and the general public were admitted to the other galleries. The general topic was "The Pulpit of the Day," and the speakers were Rev. Parker, of London, Rev. Mr. Beecher and Dr. Kidder, of Madison, N. J.

Mr. Beecher, in his address, said: Men say the pulpit has run its course, and will soon come to an end. Not as long as man is sinful and tearful and expectant, without any help near; not as long as the world lies in wickedness; not as long as a soul needs God in order to come to itself; not until man is transformed and the earth is empty of the human race will the work of the Christian ministry cease. Never was there such need of them, and never was there such hope and cheer in the work that real men would reap as to-day, and if I were to choose again to day, with all the honor to be gained through the law, and all the emoluments through merchandise, and fame through science, I would choose the ministry. In it is the sweetest consolation. It is most contented in its poverty. Where it is poor it is more full of crowded hopes and of whispering messages from those gone before, near to the threshold, near to the throne, near to the heart that was pierced, but loves forever, and says: "Because I love, you shall love also."

Dr. Adams announced that, yielding to the request of the committee, Rev. M. Gotlieb, of the University of Bonn, had consented to read a second time his paper on "Methods of contrasting modern infidelity." This announcement was received with rounds of applause.

The children's meeting at three P. M., in the Church of the Disciples, was addressed by Rev Mr. Sheshadra.

Fourth Section.

The Fourth section of the Evangelical Conference met at half-past seven o'clock in the Broadway Tabernacle, to discuss the topic of "Sunday Schools." Charles Reade, M. P., presided. He said he came to this land, sensible of the debt he owes, personally and officially, to the Sunday Schools, to receive fresh impulses, and, if possible, awaken new convictions. Ninety-two years ago the first school was opened in the city of Gloucester, and its achievements have been such that Adam Smith declared that no plan had effected a greater change of manners with equal ease since the days of the Apostles. English Sunday schools have been encumbered by elementary secular educational but America, having the advantages of an excellent public school system, had greater fusion of classes and better prepared material to work upon. But henceforth the results in the two countries will be made nearly alike. The question now is, not to teach children reading and writing, but to give them a sound religious education. The Sunday school must reach the richest and poorest. We must go were blasphemy and ridicule of religion are heard, and also among the higher classes, where it is a crime to be religious, and not "the thing" to be serious. If a poor child is important, the rich is more so. If you lift the poor man's latch, why not the rich man's? Small missions for neglected poor would be filled, for a bad man does not like his child to be as bad as himself. The higher class socially are more difficult to reach, but are accessible. Classes must not be given to mere boys. Ministers and deacons must supply more qualified persons to take infant classes of poor children, as well as secularly well instructed children of the richer class. Qualified, experienced and influential men are wanted. He advocated separate services for children, and in reference to the question of restoring the Bible in day schools, he quoted Washington's words, "which book, as the only true basis of eternal, must be the only true basis for temporal education."

Rev. Nathaniel Weiss, of Paris, delivered an interesting address. He said Sunday Schools were not needed in the days of the Hugenots in France, as the youth received religious instruction in the family circle. The first Sunday School in France was established in Bordeaux in 1810. He then spoke of the visit of Mr. Woodruff from America and the adoption of the American system and the great spread of schools, and the success of Paul Cook in that sphere, and of the debt of the French Sunday schools to England and America. But, after all, Protestants are only tolerated on the condition of keeping quiet. An agent who should visit elsewhere than where Protestants met for the purpose of inviting children to a Sunday school would be collared by a policeman.

Rev. J. H. Vincent, of New York, spoke on Bible service, and developed the following propositions: That the work of the Holy Spirit is performed through God's truth, as revealed in the Scriptures; that the Church is the natural champion of truth among men; that the Church's most efficient agency is the Christian family; that the Sundayschool fails if it teaches not home life, and that the Sunday school is a department of the Church.

Trial of Marshal Bazaine.

PARIS, October 7.—The second sitting of the court martial for the trial of Marshal Bazaine began at noon to-day. There were few spectators present, owing to the uninteresting character of the proceedings, which consisted mainly of the reading of documents. It was agreed between the counsel that depositions of dead and absent witnesses should be admitted. The President said measures had been taken to secure the attendance of witnesses living in Alsace and Lorraine.

The clerk resumed the reading of M. Riviere's report, which is a very lengthy document. M. Riviere lays great stress on Bazaine's failure to move from Metz when notified of MacMahon's advance, and claims that there is proof that the former personally received a notification on the 23d of August. The Marshal's friends have hitherto alleged that it was not received until the 29th, when it was too late.

The report generally stigmatizes as insufficient all efforts made by Metz to co-operate with MacMahon, and charges Bazaine with purposely remaining in the city to await political events, with endeavoring to shift the responsibility, with propagating unfavorable and withholding favorable news, and otherwise spreading discouragement among the besieged; with entering into negotiations with Prince Frederick Charles before making a final effort to break his lines, which is declared unprecedented in history; with confiding the date at which he was willing to surrender to Reiguire, who was a stranger, and at the time in relations with the enemy. It points to contradictory dispatches of the 26th of August, in which Bazaine informed MacMahon that it was impossible, and Palikao that it was impossible to break out.

Pending the reading of the report the Court adjourned until to-morrow.

The Congress of Coahuila in session at Monclova recognizes Dr. Salas as Governor, and it is supposed General Zepeda intends using the force which he is organizing to coerce Congress to support him or disperse its session at Monclova.

Probabilities for To-day.

For Wednesday, in the Gulf States, diminishing northerly winds, clear weather and higher temperature.

For the South Atlantic States, rising barometer, north and west winds and clear weather.

For the Middle States, northwesterly winds, backing to southwest, with clear weather, except on the immediate middle Atlantic coast, where northerly winds and cloudy weather will possibly continue in connection with the cyclone moving northeastward some distance out of Virginia.

For the lake region, rapidly falling barometer, rising temperature and fresh to brisk southwesterly winds, the storm centre in Dakota probably move into Minnesota.

Activity in the Export Trade.

Ex-City Treasurer Sprague Arraigned.

Deficiency in the National Bank of the Commonwealth.

NEW YORK, October 7, 1873.

Libel Suit.

George Wilkes has applied for an order of arrest against John F. Chamberlain, in an action begun by him to recover damages for injury done to his character. Sheridan Shook and Thomas Ryan have made an agreement that they will pay the costs which may be awarded if the defendant obtains judgment.

Condition of the National Bank of the Commonwealth.

Isaac H. Bailey, Receiver of the National Bank of the Commonwealth, gives a statement of the assets of the bank, which are $1,998,077.93, and the liabilities $1,535,245, exclusive of the capital stock of $750,000. By this exhibit there is a deficiency of $287,167.31, showing the capital impaired 38¼ per cent. The aggregate indebtedness of the directors to the bank on the day of the failure was over $500,000.

In view of the above statement by Bailey, President Ellis is out in a card to the creditors and stockholders of the bank, in which he says: "Perhaps the willingness of Bailey to be receiver at a salary of $6,000 a year and commissions, may explain his gloomy view of the affairs of the bank. His right to its property will be tested in the United States Court, and I beg you will suspend your judgment of the bank and its officers until they again have their books, and the means of their defense."

At a meeting of the Clearing House Association this afternoon, at the request of Mr. Ellis, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a special committee of five be appointed by the Chair, which committee shall, with the President and directors of the National Bank of the Commonwealth, make an examination into its affairs, and report at a future meeting of the association, the assent of the Comptroller of the Currency first being obtained.

The order issued by Judge Woodruff last week to show cause why the appointment of Isaac H. Bailey as receiver should not be declared null and void was returnable to-day. Judge Woodruff is not in town, and the matter was brought before Judge Blatchford, who said, as he was a stockholder in the bank, he would decline to hear the arguments. The matter was adjourned till next Tuesday.

The Export Trade.

In commercial circles the feature of business is the gratifying activity of grain and grain freights. The export movement in wheat is on a liberal scale, with prices quoted up. The receipts of wheat are large, and the engagements of freights for the British ports embrace the free shipment of wheat. Several grain, petroleum and tobacco charters are reported. Cotton dealings for both early and forward delivery are moderate.

Church Union.

It is reported that on Sunday last, at the service of the Lord's Supper in one of the Presbyterian churches, the officiating clergy consisted of a Protestant Episcopalian, a Baptist, a Lutheran, and representatives of other denominations, the elements being partaken of by members of the various creeds and church organizations whose union forms the Alliance.

Malpractice.

Mrs. Mecilla Metzger, alias Medea, arrested and charged with causing the death of Ida M. Vail, has made an affidavit that Dr. J. K. Commins, of New York City, was the person guilty of malpractice. A requisition will be made on Governor Dix for his removal to Jersey City.

The Italian Consul General Decorated.

The Italian Government has conferred the Grand Cross of the Order of Italy on the Italian Consul General at this port, in consideration of his efforts to suppress the traffic in Italian children.

Released on Bail.

Colonel Drake, of the visiting New Jersey regiment, arrested last evening while under review by the Mayor, was released upon filing the required bond.

The Goodrich Murder.

Lizzie King, alias Kate Stoddard, was arraigned, but one of her counsel stated that they were not yet ready. To-day was fixed for the trial, and she was remanded to prison.

Session of the Senatorial Committee.

The Senatorial Committee on Privileges and Elections held a private session this afternoon, declining to give any information as to their deliberation until their arrival in Washington.

Ex-City Treasurer Sprague Arraigned.

Ex-City Treasurer Sprague, of Brooklyn, was arraigned to-day under four indictments, and his trial set for the 20th inst.

Business Suspension.

Wylie, Nevols & Co., sugar dealers, have suspended.

YELLOW FEVER.

Shreveport.

SHREVEPORT, October 7.—There were nine yellow fever interments to-day.

Memphis.

MEMPHIS, October 7.—There are about six hundred yellow fever cases under treatment in the infected district. To-day there were forty-two yellow fever interments, and twelve other cases.

Aid for the Sufferers.

ST. LOUIS, October 7.—Nearly two thousand dollars, in addition to the amount previously reported, has been subscribed for the Memphis sufferers, and an active committee is still working in their behalf. The Odd Fellows and Masons have also sent handsome sums to be distributed by their brethren in the afflicted city. About seven thousand dollars in money and a large amount of clothing and provisions have been sent to Shreveport, and more is being contributed. Much sympathy is felt here for the sick and destitute of these cities, and it is finding expression in a substantial manner.

PEORIA, ILL., October 7.—By invitation of the Order of I. O. B. B. and Mayor Brotherson, Rev Dr. Edward B. M. Brown, the Jewish Rabbi, will deliver a lecture at Rouse's Opera Hall, on Friday evening, for the benefit of the Memphis and Shreveport sufferers.

CAIRO, October 7.—Five hundred and sixty-one dollars were contributed by the citizens today for the relief of the sufferers by yellow fever at Memphis and Shreveport.

ALLEGHENY GAS WORKS.

Arranging for the Purchase—The Bonds to be Issued At Once—The Payment to be Made within Six Months

Last night the Finance Committee of Allegheny Councils held a meeting in the City Treasurer's office. The principal item of business before the Committee was the matter of the purchase of the gas works. The Controller was instructed to prepare an ordinance, to be presented to Councils to-morrow night, authorizing the issue of $650,000 worth of bonds to pay for the works.

A discussion here sprung up between the committee and representatives of the gas works who were present, as to the time of payment. The gas works managers thought the funds should be handed over in thirty days, but the committee thought that would be impossible in the present state of financial matters. Finally a resolution was passed agreeing to pay for the works within the next six months at the furthest, and at an earlier date if possible. This compromise was accepted and the matter so arranged.

The committee then appointed the following persons collectors of delinquent taxes for 1873: First ward, A. Bailey; Second ward, Robert Dilworth; Third ward, John Ogden; Fourth ward, R. W. Armstrong; Fifth ward, Isaac Stewart; Sixth ward, S. J. Crist; Seventh ward, F. Hanley; Eighth ward, Robert Reno; Ninth ward, Michael Woods; Tenth ward, (no application); Eleventh ward, Cyrus Hutchinson.

After approving a number of small bills, adjourned.

SURVEYS IN ALLEGHENY.

Meeting of the Committee Last Evening.

Last evening the Survey Committee of Allegheny Councils held a meeting in the chamber of the Select Council. They decided to prepare an ordinance for the repeal of the ordinance opening Milroy avenue, and also decided to have an ordinance prepared for opening the same street, from a new plan prepared and presented by the City Engineer. They ordered the Clerk to have an ordinance prepared changing the location of a portion of Charles street. In regard to the petition for changing the grades on Harrison and Gallaher streets, the Committee decided to report adversely as the change was impracticable. The opening of a street through Uniondale Cemetery was postponed until a conference could be had with its managers. After transacting some other routine business the Committee adjourned.

ATTENTION FIRE COMMISSION.

What is the Matter!

Since the commencement of the present month up the 7th instant, there have been eight alarms and six fires. In that same time six hose carriages have been smashed and two hook and ladder trucks very badly damaged. To top off the whole, twelve firemen were injured seriously and otherwise. This certainly is a startling exhibit, and it looks as though somewhere there was a screw loose, for some of these accidents must result from carelessness, and make the Fire Department an expensive luxury. The "Niagara" Hose yesterday collided with a variety theatre band wagon, and parties who saw the accident, say clearly the blame was entirely on the part of the hose cart driver. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

BONDS at Frankfort 97

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 40¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110¼.

THE President has ordered ten thousand rations to be sent to the people of Memphis. This, as was the distribution of rations to the people of Chicago, is entirely commendable.

CHARLES BRADLAUGH, the noted English Republican and agitator, has delivered two lectures in New York, the first to a moderate, the second to a large and enthusiastic audience. He developed great force and magnetism in his address, and evidently commanded the sympathy if not the judgment of his audiences. His plan of reform for England is, to develop a Republic, made up of England, Scotland and Ireland.

AFTER a long and wearisome delay the trial of Marshal Bazaine has been opened before a military court, of which the Duc d'Aumale is President. They have a different way of managing things in France, from what prevails in any other country. The trial is scarcely opened when we know what the result is to be, from no less authority than the presiding officer himself. The Marshal is to be adjudged guilty, condemned to death, and then pardoned,—all of which will make a good Monarchist of him.

THE Republican ticket, now before the people of this county, represents as fair a division of official honors among the several classes and interests into which this, as well as every other community, is divided, as it is possible for it to be. We commend the ticket as the best submitted to the suffrages of the people. We commend it as a whole, and hope every Republican will determine to be at the polls on election day, and vote for his ticket as it is. A clear, full vote is what is asked of every true Republican.

ONE effect of the currency stringency has been to induce a return to gold, or specie payments. The Philadelphia Ledger furnishes an example: "The difficulty experienced in obtaining currency to pay wages by large employing parties has induced at least one party here to resort to the use of gold. The employes agree to take the coin at the quoted market difference between marked checks and due bills, which is about ten per cent. That is, ninety cents in gold for one dollar in checks and due bills. This is unquestionably a step towards the resumption of specie payments, and as the difficulty in the way of readily obtaining a supply of currency is increased, the more general will a resort to coin become."

THE Post imagines it discovers a mare's nest, because the GAZETTE does not expend its energies in shouting the names of particular candidates, and mentions Mr. Mackey's name, as though it were carefully omitted from our columns. We have treated him as we have our other candidates. His name and their's are at the head of our editorial column, and we have urged our Republican friends, repeatedly and earnestly, to vote our entire ticket. In other words, we do not single out candidates, to praise some and pass others by in silence, but support all. Nor do we see any need for special pleas for particular individuals. Mr. Mackey, Judge Gordon, and our local candidates will be elected. Should we see any reason, at any time, to fear that Mr. Hutchinson will succeed, we will specify. But as the Post, while mentioning others, is careful to let Mr. Hutchinson pull his own cart, we imagine no fear need be entertained because of that gentleman's candidacy.

A GRAND FLOURISH.

We compliment our sweet-spirited friends, the Chairmen of the Dauphin and Allegheny County Democratic Executive Committees, at the beautiful position they have managed to place themselves in, before the people of the State. Nor are we particularly disposed to grieve that the Democratic party is involved in their proceedings. These innocent gentlemen, with a wonderful flourish of trumpets, applied to the Supreme Court, yesterday, for a mandamus, to compel the Auditor General to open to their innocent inspection, certain books in his office. When Judge Read asked to know why they desired to inspect these books, they innocently replied that it was merely to exercise an abstract right. These Don Quixotes of abstract rights were then favored with a rule to show cause, returnable on the 17th instant! The joke of this may be seen when it is known that these innocent gentlemen were mousing after election thunder. Yet the Court merely followed custom, in granting ten days' time to the defendant. We fancy our Democratic friends will be intensely anxious to examine those books on the 17th instant!

CURRENCY EXPANSION.

We notice that the necessity for some plan, similar to that we sketched yesterday, for relieving the drain on currency, is felt and advocated elsewhere, and by other journals. Says the New York Herald, touching the want of elasticity in our currency, "the grand fault of our finance, is that our currency is like iron—unelastic, and unadaptive to the wants of the country; and not all the tinkering of Congress has been able to change its character for the better." In another article, it further says, in defining the effect of an exchange of greenbacks for bonds, that there is no necessity for inflation; that our Government bonds are the rock on which rests the credit of the Union; and that "these very bonds may be temporarily mobilized and absorbed into the circulating medium whenever the emergencies of trade require. In other words, when money is wanted, as is the case at the present moment, they might be exchanged at the Treasury for currency, which, passing into general use at the South and West, would perform its functions there during the busy season, and afterwards return to the financial centre. Meanwhile, the interest on these specific bonds may be suspended. Thus the Government would save money. Before the Summer months, with their plethora of funds, come again, the banks, redepositing their redundant currency in the Treasury, could recall their bonds, to be held until the ensuing season, and so ad infinitum from year to year." This subject must, of necessity, come into general discussion.

We adverted, yesterday, also, to the loss of greenbacks, by wear and tear, and intimated that it amounted to about ten per cent. The subject has attracted attention at Washington, and we notice that this loss is there estimated at much higher figures than we put it. Says the Washington correspondent of the New York Times: "One question, which seems not to have attracted much attention, but which has an important bearing on the monetary troubles, is now receiving notice here. That is, how much of the currency which has been issued by the Government and banks has actually and absolutely been withdrawn, by having been destroyed or lost. It is not possible to estimate this loss accurately, but that large quantities have been burned in great fires and sunk with wrecked vessels is well known. Besides, the ordinary loss of small amounts has been in the aggregate for several years a very large sum. The total amount of currency that has been thus taken out of the nominal amount of currency that is in circulation amounts to many millions. It is not believed that enough of the legal tender reserve of $44,000,000 has been paid out, or will be, to make good the amount lost. These facts will be made the ground of a strong appeal to Congress by Western interests for an increase of currency."

Ten per cent. of the aggregate of our currency would in round numbers amount to $40,000,000. If the losses of currency in the Chicago and Boston fires and by other accidents and wear and tear, amounts to ten per cent. of the whole issue, and the $44,000,000 retired by McCulloch are not in circulation, it follows that we must deduct $84,000,000 from the aggregate issue in order to ascertain the amount actually in circulation at the present. This will leave $316,000,000 as the real currency circulation of the country. The latest figures show that but $2,500,000 of the retired $44,000,000 is in circulation. Hence, were the Government to increase the issue by $100,000,000 on the basis we mentioned yesterday, it would only have in circulation $16,000,000 more than during the war. We believe the business of the country requires this. Nor would it, in any proper sense, be an expansion of currency.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

We are not inclined to attempt to improperly aid any particular railroad, but aware that many of our citizens are financially interested in the Northern Pacific, we availed ourselves of the presence in the city of Thomas K. Cree, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Indian Commissioners, who, during three years past has been through the country penetrated by this road, to obtain such information as he might be able to give. From his statements we gather the following facts: From Duluth, where this road receives its Eastern freight and from which it ships the Eastern-bound products of Minnesota, a first-class road is built and in operation to where the connecting line from St. Paul joins it. The quality of the country it traverses in Minnesota no one has presumed to call in question. It is fairly watered, well timbered, and the best wheat-producing section of the country. That the winters are cold is known to every one, but usually there is very little snow, and farmers say they work in the fields in their shirt-sleeves, with the thermometer below zero, with as little inconvenience as they would suffer in the East. The reason for this is the dryness of the atmosphere, there being but little moisture in it.

The steady increase of the population, the large production of grain, and the general prosperity of Minnesota assures the success of any well managed railroad that traverses it. Since the road has been finished to the Missouri river, and the Government freight for the upper forts along the river and for Montana has been carried by the road, and at one-half what it formerly cost to ship it by the slow and uncertain navigation of the Missouri, and Government freight from St. Louis for these same ports is carried via St. Paul by this road at much less rates than boats on the Missouri can carry it.

Leaving the Missouri and continuing across Dakota to the Yellowstone, the road passes over the only land that is not good. It is what is known as "the bad land," a mistranslation of the French mauvre terra, and applied to this land on account of its lying in "tables" at a moderate altitude above the water courses. While some of this land is not desirable for farming use, all of it is good for grazing. This section of the land grant, the poorest of the immense grant, is far superior to the average land on the line of the Central and Union Pacific railroads. The road is now being built over this territory. When it reaches the Yellowstone the character of the country is entirely changed. The valley of the Yellowstone, several hundred miles long, through the entire length of which the road will pass, is a very superior farming and grazing country. It has wide and innumerable streams flowing into the Yellowstone, which opens up a net-work of valleys that will offer great attraction to future settlers. So far as it is open to settlement, it is well settled, and vast herds cover the mountain sides, which are wooded with a fair quality of timber.

The wonders of the National Park, which one who has not visited it cannot begin to conceive of, will attract a tide of travel that will assure its prosperity as a Summer route for pleasure travel. The valleys of the Madison, the Jefferson and the Bitter Pool are second to none for general farming purposes. The productions are far in excess of the demand, and wheat in an unlimited quantity, could be bought before the crop of the present season was harvested, at forty cents per bushel, and flour at one dollar per hundred pounds. Cattle of the very best kind were selling at $2.25 per hundred pounds, and horses at $37.50 each. The mines of the Territory are almost at a stand still from inability to get the ore to market. One gulch has yielded over fifty millions in gold and at present is paying regularly five hundred thousand dollars per month in gold. Other mines are paying very largely. Rich silver leads are being worked all over the Territory, but none but the very richest ore will pay for shipment. Very rich mineral deposits have been discovered during the past Summer, and the Brunot-Crow treaty opens up a mining country that with railroad transportation would be good for a very large sum of money. All these interests in Montana need railroad communication with the East.

The climate of Montana is more mild than that of the section of country traversed by the Central and Union Pacific Railroads. There is much less snow, the season is some four to six weeks earlier in the Spring, and there is much more rain during the Summer. The streams are so numerous that when necessary almost the whole of the territory can be irrigated, and stock winters without shelter, or food other than the rich grasses which they find available all the year. None of the road is as yet built in Montana. Leaving Montana the route crosses into Washington territory, when it strikes the rich valleys of Walla Walla and Umatella, and by the Columbia river found a route open all the year to the Pacific. The franchise of the Columbia is very valuable and was held, with the boats, the railroads and equipments around the rapids, and the real estate at seven million dollars. The property was acquired by the Northern Pacific Railroad for four millions. The river is navigable for some eight hundred miles, and the traffic on it is very large at Kalama. On the Columbia the railroad again begins, and the line is finished as far as Puget Sound, where it is now almost to find its terminus at the future great city of the West. The region here is very heavily wooded, and the yield of timber to the acre very large. When the road was building bids were asked to clear the timber from the road bed for a distance of thirty-two miles, and the lowest bid was thirty thousand dollars. Another branch it is proposed to build along the Yakima river, through the finest grazing country in the world, leaving which it penetrates the timber country that will be almost inexhaustible—a common yield is two hundred thousand feet to the acre, while in our Pennsylvania lumber region one-fourth of that quantity is a large production.

The climate of this region along Puget Sound is so mild that ice and snow is unknown, and the variation of Summer and Winter temperature is scarcely perceptible. The tonnage of Puget Sound, with no eastern connection, is equal to that of San Francisco, and twenty vessels may be seen on it at any time loading for as many ports in South America, China, Japan, the Sandwich Islands, India, Australia, as well as many of the eastern ports of our own country. Then vessels carry out lumber and come back with little or no freight, but with a Railroad to the east would bring the productions of the various countries with which they trade, and insure a good carrying business to the eastern market and Europe.

That this road will soon be built Mr. Cree seems to feel confident of, the land grant he thinks is worth as much as the entire road will cost, and the portion now built will furnish a good security for the building of the balance of it. The singular and inexplicable temperature of the region traversed by this road made the route one specially adapted for a through route to the east.

THIS is the costume the Kansas City Times says Anna Dickinson wore when she went up the Rocky Mountains (she didn't use a side-saddle) riding a mule: "A plain, closely-fitting corsage, short skirt, extending just below the knee, trousers wide at bottom, a few inches longer, blue stockings with white arrow worked from ankle up, low quartered shoes, like a gentleman's Oxford ties."

A LADY in Providence lost her needle the other day, and in the effort to find it unearthed four hundred from the bowels of her pin cushion. She now has needles to spare. A friend heard of her discovery, and borrowed pin cushions of all her neighbors. The result was astounding. She gave up counting when she reached 8,000, and began to estimate. She now advertises: "Needles for sale—a new invoice."

MR. CONKLING is said to desire that Judge Ward Hunt should have the vacant Chief Judgeship. Judge Pierrepont and Mr. William M. Evarts are also prominently mentioned, the only objection urged to the latter being the fear that he will not keep the place for any length of time. Butler's opposion to Judge Hoar is thought to be sufficient to defeat the latter's prospects, while Justice Miller, of Ohio, and Senator Howe, of Wisconsin, are regarded as ahead in the race.

THE Rev. S. W. Bush, the retiring chaplain of the Binghamton Asylum for Inebriates, thinks that institution is practically a failure. Cases of reform are few. "Only three of the eighty-two patients under the first administration," says Mr. Bush, "have continued in a course of total abstinence; and all these eighty-two belonged to the higher class of society, and were intelligent, educated men. Many of these are dead and died in a manner not pleasant to contemplate. The rest—alas for them!"

THE Hagerstown Mail is informed by Mr. Thos. A. Boulit, Secretary and Treasurer of Antietam National Cemetary, that the granite statue is now fast approaching completion at Westerly, Rhode Island. The statue is made of two blocks of granite, and when up will stand twenty-one feet high; thickness across the shoulders, five feet two inches; feet, thirty-six inches long; hands, twelve inches wide; fingers, fifteen inches long; moustache, thirteen inches long, &c. Jas. G. Betterson is the sculptor.

JOHN T. IRVING, the self-accused Nathan murderer, was visited in his cell at San Francisco on the 26th ultimo by Captain Irving and Detective Dusenberry, of the New York police force, who have gone thither to bring him to this city. They recognized him at once and he recognized them. Irving still holds to his story of his complicity in the Nathan murder, and says upon this point that he knows a great deal which he has not yet told to anybody, and which he will make known to the Chief of Police here on his arrival in New York. The detectives were to have started with him on their return in a few days.

A VERY distinguished wedding occurred in Trenton, N. J., October 1. The bride, Miss Marion Trent Rossell, is a descendant of one of the oldest families in New Jersey. One of her ancestors was Colonel William Trent, Speaker of the House of Assembly in 1720, and in his honor the capital of the State was named. Her great grandfather rose from an humble position to Judge of the Supreme Court; his son was an officer in the war of 1812, and Nathan Beaks Rossell, father of the bride, was breveted Major for brilliant services in the Mexican war, and was killed at the battle of Gaines' Mills in 1862. The groom, Baron Carl von Lingen, is a German nobleman. For years he has resided in New York, where he will make his future home. Mrs. George B. McClellan is a cousin of the bride's mother, and the General gave the bride away at the marriage ceremony.

THE death of the "bearded woman," Jacqueline Doublin, is announced. For the past year she has been a nightly visitor at the "Chatelet." Each evening she attended the theater in the garb of a man, always occupying the same seat. She called forth not a little attention, her long black hair and beard rendering her an object of especial interest. About two months ago she appeared in an elegant woman's attire, her face closely shaved. Notwithstanding the change of dress she was instantly recognized by the gallery, and greeted in a conspicuous but not satisfactory manner. From that she was seen no more, and it was soon rumored that she was ill; also that said illness was the result of a violent and hopeless love for the leading actor of the Chatelet. On her death-bed the unfortunate Jacqueline wrote a letter to the Commissioner of Police acknowledging her passion, which the physicians state was actually the cause of her death.

PRIVATE enterprise has stocked the Susquehanna river in the neighborhood of Harrisburg and Dauphin with black bass from the Potomac. A CINCINNATI paper of yesterday morning publishes the results of many interviews with leading manufacturers in the various departments, from which it appears that the number of hands discharged there on account of the money stringency has been much over-estimated. It appears comparatively small, and most of the manufacturers and artisans express the hope that they will be able to go through without further reduction of either force or time.

CURIOSITY has occasionally been attracted by the question of what becomes of all the canceled railway tickets? The average number issued in Paris is about 30,000 daily, making an annual total of 10,940,000, and the figure for the whole of France is calculated at 40,000,000. The weight of each morsel of card board is one gramme, and the sum realized by the company selling them wholesale to the paper-makers to be remade, is from 16,000 to 18,000 francs.

THE Commune, during their possession of Paris, destroyed among other things all the official records of births and marriages. As most of them were family men and women without marriage, or unconscious of their own parentage, the object was to place all on a level of "equality" in this respect. The work of restoring the records is now in progress, as all who are not recorded are regarded in the eye of the law as illegitimate. It has made brisk work for the lawyers.

DR. ELIZA WALKER has resigned the post of house surgeon to the Bristol (England) Hospital for Women and Children. In consequence of her appointment all the medical officers resigned. In her letter to the Committee she says she is convinced that her resignation alone can relieve the management of the hospital from serious embarrassment, and enable them to obtain the services of sufficient honorary medical officers. She regrets that she is compelled to take this step, not so much for herself as for the cause she represents.

THE Chieftain of the Glens or Bogs has had a hard time in his travels through Tralee, Ireland, to solicit suffrages. Here is an extract that describes one of his experiences: "Amongst the missiles heaped on The O'Donoghue were numerous rotten eggs. A pail of water deluged him just at this instant, as he was passing the hotel."

ASSYRIAN DISCOVERY.

History, Politics, Astronomy, Mythology, Geography and Language of Ancient Assyria.

Mr. George Smith writes to the London Daily Telegraph: "The collection brought home by the expedition confided to my charge includes over 400 separate inscriptions, besides various objects of art, domestic economy, implements, &c. The inscriptions throw new light on the history, politics, astronomy, mythology, geography and language of ancient Assyria; but it would be tedious to your readers to inflict on them a critical and minute examination of all these texts. I will, therefore, select a few as characteristic specimens of the collection, and I shall commence with a text that has attracted most attention—that, namely, which belongs to the Deluge series. When last year I published a translation of the text in question, I was obliged to note with regret that in the first column of the inscription there were about fifteen lines entirely lost. The lacuna occurred at a point of high interest to students and the world in general—for the Divine Instructor of Sisit was about to give orders for the embarkation in the ark. It is needless, therefore, to say with what satisfaction I lighted upon the welcome tablet which fills up this very important gap. The fragment I found during the expedition belongs to the first column of the Deluge series of inscriptions; it continues the speech of the god Hea, the commencement of which is on the portion of tablet already in the Museum. On the fragment of the old collection, Hea tells Sisit to warn the world, because of the wickedness of the people; on the present portion Hea continues by predicting the flood, and then commands Sisit as follows: "On the coming of the flood which I shall send, thou shalt enter into the ship, and the door of the ship turn, thou shalt send into the midst of it thy corn, thy furniture and goods, thy gold and silver, thy male slaves, and thy female slaves, the sons of the army, the beasts of the field, the animals of the field, all that thou hearest thou shalt do * * * they shall spread, and they shall guard the door of the ship. Sisit attended and opened his mouth, and spake, and said to the God Hea, his lord. Five lines of the speech of Sisit followed this. They are too mutilated for exact translation; and then in the answer, Sisit refers to the difficulties in the way of the work. I need not dwell upon the interest of placing this account side by side with that contained in the book of Genesis."

Coal Trade.

The total of anthracite coal marketed for the week ending on the 27th ultimo amounted to 477,514 tons, and for the coal year 14,830,878 tons, against 14,179,752 tons to corresponding time last year, being an increase of 651,126 tons. The bituminous tonnage for the week is 78,646 tons, and for the year 2,373,882 tons, giving a total of all kinds for the week of 556,160 tons, and for the year of 17,210,561 tons, against 16,249,841 to the same time last year, being an increase of 970,720 tons. The tonnage of Lehigh Coal and Navigation shows a decrease of 25,583 tons, and that by the Lehigh and Susquehanna River Railroad (leased to the Central of New Jersey) an increase of 249,907 tons, being a net increase of 224,323 tons over works owned by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company. The coal trade was again active last week, and the orders continue in good supply.—Phila. Ledger.

THE Albany Journal reminds people that, while they are marveling over the $40,000 cow recently sold in New York State, they should not forget the animal formerly in possession of Mrs. O'Leary, of Chicago, which cost in the neighborhood of $3000,000,000.

RUPTURE.

There are hundreds of people ruptured who don't know what ails them; there are others who don't know what to do for it, nor where to seek for relief or a cure; others again who have had rupture for years, under the false notion that there can be no danger in the future, as there has been none in the past. This is a fatal delusion, and there is no knowing what day the rupture may become strangulated, and call for a painful and dangerous surgical operation. To avoid so fearful a result, make application to some competent person to have a truss applied. Will a truss cure me, you may ask. Very often it will, but it will always retain the parts so as to make you secure and safe from danger, and at a cost so trifling as to be hardly worth mentioning when compared with the enormous risk you run in letting it alone. Dr. Keyser, at his office, 167 Liberty street, is provided with every appliance suitable to the retention and cure of this terrible evil. He has trusses at a price as low as can be obtained anywhere in the country, and in every variety and quality—of such vast variety, that the most difficult and long standing cases, of years duration, are made manageable and brought within the province of cure. Let no one deceive themselves into the belief that rupture is never curable; but worst than all, let none consent to "let alone" cure.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.
Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of selfabuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, loss of sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.
This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians.
Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address

NEW YORK, October 7, 1873.

The general situation in Wall street to-day was marked by a decrease in the volume of business and less buoyancy than yesterday. On the Stock Exchange lower values prevailed, under a disposition on the part of some who bought stocks for cash at low prices during the panic to realize the profits offered by the recent sharp advance. Late in the day rumors of mercantile failures had an unsettling effect, although only one failure was positively reported, and that in the sugar trade.

Money was easy early in the day at 7 per cent. currency to gold interest, but afterwards advanced to 1-16@¼ per diem, and finally closed at 6@7 per cent. Greenbacks were higher and in demand for shipment to the interior. The premium ranged from ¾ to 1½ per cent. The legal tender circulation this afternoon is $316,000 larger than yesterday. Foreign exchange was heavy and lower. The asking rates were reduced to 107¼ and 108¼. At the close the quotations for actual business were 107 for sixty days, 108 for sight, and 108½ for transfers. Customs receipts to-day, $297,000. Gold was rather firmer in tone, but the dealings were not large. All sales were at 110⅛ to 110⅝, closing at the former quotation. Loans were from 2 to 6 per cent. and flat for carrying. Clearings $21,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $61,000. Governments closed buoyant at the highest figures of the day. There was an active demand from the savings banks, and some large transactions were reported. The greatest activity was in new 5s and currency 6s. State bonds were quiet and firm.

Stocks were dull until after the first call, when a selling movement in Vanderbilt specialties was observed, and nearly the whole list felt the effect of it. Lake Shore, Western Union, New York Central and Rock Island went off from 1 to 2 per cent. At the close the lowest prices of the day were current, the market being unsettled by the reports alluded to above.

Secretary of the Treasury Richardson, ex-Secretary McCulloch and Assistant Treasurer Hillhouse were in close conference at the Sub-Treasury in this city this afternoon.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, October 7, 1873.

Business generally has been considerably curtailed by the stringency in money matters, and no material improvement can reasonably be expected until there is an easing up; as soon as the banks begin to discount pretty freely and currency becomes plentier, trade will pick up, but not much, if any, before. Our merchants generally are making no effort for the time being to push business, in consequence of the almost impossibility of making collections; notes are good for nothing as they cannot be discounted, and in the present condition of affairs it is more preferable to carry goods than paper, as the former is safer than the latter and is not so troublesome. Cash buyers are very scarce, and those who have the greenbacks in hand to plank down can buy goods of almost any kind considerably under quoted rates.

APPLES—The arrivals within the past day or two have been comparatively light, but the supply is fully up to the demand, and prices are still sustained, ranging from $2,50@3,50 ℔ brl, as to quality.

BEANS—Sales in a jobbing way at $2,50@3 per bushel.

BUTTER—Continues to come in pretty freely, and the market is easier—some dealers quote prices lower. Prime to choice roll, however, is still quotable at 28@30; good to prime solid packed, 23@25. Common butter in good supply and dull.

CHEESE—The market is perhaps a shade less active, but prices remain unchanged, and there is no accumulation here; we continue to quote prime Ohio Factory at 13½@14 to the trade, and 14½@15 in a jobbing way.

CRANBERRIES—Prime Jerseys, $11@12 ℔ brl. Sackett and Carey, $17@18.

EGGS—Dealers generally report the market dull, and with increased receipts, stocks are accumulating; we reduce our quotations to 23@24, although some dealers still quote at 25.

FLOUR—There is a very fair demand taking everything into consideration, although as might be expected, it has been curtailed somewhat like everything else. Prices remain as last quoted at $7,25@7.50 for fair to good spring wheat flours, and $7,75@8 for red winter wheat and $10@10,50 for fancy St. Louis white wheat. Rye Flour, $5,25@5,50.

GRAPES—In fair supply, but with a good demand, prices are sustained, ranging from 5@7c ℔ pound.

GRAIN—There is a very fair demand for some kinds of grain, but dealers complain that, as a rule, they have to pay cash, but that when it comes to selling, they have to wait from thirty days to three and four months—at present it is difficult to make any collections at all. There is no difficulty in selling Oats at full rates, say 45@49 cts., but as already intimated, it is very difficult to get any money. There is but little inquiry for Wheat, and the market is quiet and nominally unchanged: $1,45@1,50 for red; $1,53@1,55 for amber, and $1,58@1,60 for white. Corn is in rather better supply, and there is, if anything, an easier feeling, although prices remain about as last quoted, 64@65. Rye is quiet and unchanged; 85@90; the offerings continue light, and there is some inquiry for it at 85. Barley continues irregular, and the bulk of that coming in is consigned to consumers, may be quoted at from $1,25@1,50, according to quality.

GROCERIES—Trade so far at least as Pittsburgh is concerned is dull; the demand for all the leading staples is considerably reduced, although our merchants generally are getting about all the orders they want unless accompanied by greenbacks. The late Rio news, as noted in our last report, although of a very favorable nature for holders of Coffee does not seem to give any impetus to the trade at the seaboard, as both the New York and Baltimore markets are reported dull. Sugars continue dull, although not quotably lower.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 27½@28; good to prime 25½@27c; fair, 24@25c. Roasted one lb. packages, 31c; loose, 30½.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13½c; Crushed, Powdered and Granulated, 12½; Standard A, 11½; B, 11½; Ex. C, 11¼; Franklin Ex. C, 10½. Other Yellow Sugars, 8@10.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 80c; Sugar Drips, 70c; Amber, 65@70; lower grades, 40@50, as to quality.

RICE—Carolina Choice, 9½; Patna, 8½; Rangoon, 7½@8.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 78@80c; Prime 73 to 75.

HONEY—Is selling at 33@35c per ℔.

HAY—The market for baled continues dull and notwithstanding the arrivals for some days past have been comparatively light, prices are weak and barely maintained; we continue to quote at $20@25 per ton.

PEAS—$1.75@2 ℔ bushel.

POTATOES—Irish in light supply, and selling readily at full prices, 85@90c per bushel by the car load. Sweets unchanged, ranging from $3,50@4.50 per brl, the outside figure for Jerseys.

POULTRY—Live chickens, by the coop, 50@75c per pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ℔ lb, 15, Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 11; Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 13½c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 16½. Beef tongues, $7.50 ℔ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 10c. Bacon Rib Sides, 10½c. Bacon Short Rib Sides 11c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 11½c. Mess Pork, $17.00 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in trcs, 9½. Do. half bbls, 10½c. Do. bkts 11c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12½c. Do in 5 lb. 12½c do. in 3 lb. pails 13½c; ℔ pound. Do. in 6 lb pails, 13. Do in 5 lb. pails, 13½. Lard Oil, Ex. Winter Strained, per gallon, 72.

ONIONS—$4@5 per brl.

RAGS—Quoted at 3¼@3½c.

SALT—Is quoted at $1,60 ℔ brl. by the car load, and $1.85 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—The market is very quiet, and there is not enough doing in either Clover or Timothy Seed to establish quotations. Flax Seed continues scarce, and the mills, we believe, are still paying $1.90.

TALLOW—Quoted at 7½@8c ℔ lb.

WHISKY—Highwines have undergone but little change since the date of our last weekly report, and we continue to quote at 96@97, per gallon.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, October 7, 1873.

Trade continues fair, even better than could reasonably be expected under present circumstances and surroundings. Our advices from the producing regions report that there is a better feeling than there was a week ago; the panic, caused by the disturbed condition of financial affairs, has almost subsided, and the expectations in regard to new strikes were not fully realized. The production is said to be holding its own, the increase caused by new wells being offset by the falling off in the yield of old ones—this in the opinion of observant operators who have given the matter considerable attention, and, therefore, it is entitled to consideration. The market to day was reported steady at $1,02½@1,05 ℔ brl at Parker, equal to about 3½c ℔ gallon delivered here. During the panic prices were forced down lower than they should have gone, and the recent advance is attributed to a natural reaction therefrom. Refined is in fair demand and firmer: may be quoted at 13½ on cars here for western shipment, and 16½ cents for October, delivered in Philadelphia.

Oil barrels continue in steady demand, with regular sales of city make at $2,15; countries in very limited supply, and quotable at $2,10.

New York Breadstuffs Market.—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, October 6.—The features of our wheat market since this day week have presented a favorable contrast to the preceding week: a decided reaction in exchange, a far better demand for it, and the partial adoption of our plan as set forth in our last week's issue by our leading merchants, has greatly relieved the market of the excessive supply of commercial exchange, the low rates current for it inducing importers to purchase it to some extent, and it is very evident after the coming week the supply will fall off, and holders of wheat, if they cannot sell it to advantage, will place it in store; the almost complete suspension of receipts on the upper lakes renders it certain that the autumn trade will fall far below previous estimates, and it is evident that the financial panic through which we are passing will be felt for some months to come, and to a greater extent than we had counted on last week; every branch of trade in the country seems to be suffering greatly for the want of a circulating medium, and if the gold and silver in the country could now be used, some $110,000,000, would be of immense value to the country, and this only can be accomplished by a resumption of specie payments, and this we regard as the favorable time for the Government to do it; it can be done if the Government will submit to a considerable loss, say ten per cent, on the amount of its issues of currency, and we feel confident the result can be attained; the balance of trade is now in our favor, and we feel assured that this state of things is certain to continue, as the wants of Europe for food must be supplied from this country, and gold must steadily flow in this direction, so the present is the most favorable time to resume. Prices of most staple goods are low, and we doubt very much if a resumption of specie payments would reduce values materially, with the exception of stocks and real estate, which are selling far above their real value, and cannot be expected to command inflated prices while other kinds of property came down to the specie standard. Rents are doubtless what they should be, and should come down, in keeping with the reduced rates paid for labor. The receipts of wheat during the week have been very large, and, fortunately, a large proportion of them were previously sold; and, with the improvement in exchange, a fearful decline has been averted. Much of the spring wheat due here early in the month is not likely to come to hand in time to meet the contracts, and these have been canceled at $1,46@1,47½ for No. 2 Milwaukee, and $1,43@1,44 for No. 2 Chicago. This has relieved the market materially, and after the 20th instant the great pressure will be over, as receivers will commence to store their wheat to some extent. The receipts thus far of winter wheat have been limited, and it is very evident that farmers will be slow to part with their crop. The check given to business at the northwest is extremely unfortunate, coming at this time, as we have but few weeks time ere the close of lake and canal navigation. In our last we estimated the falling off in the receipts of wheat, in consequence of the financial panic and failures, at 5,00,000 bushels, and we have now reason to believe that it will exceed 6,000,000 bushels, and during the winter it is likely to fall much below previous estimates. The exports of the week reach 1,867,-8,9 bushels, the largest weekly aggregate we ever remember, against 382,144 bushels the corresponding week last year.

The demand for flour since this day week has been far more general, though the tone and spirit of the market has not been very satisfactory, the arrivals have not increased, and with some advance in the rates of freight and sudden changes in the value of commercial exchange, the business of the week has not been very satisfactory, though more so than during the previous week. The trade have purchased more freely, and old family brands and old fancy Minnesota have been in better request at improved prices, but new winter and spring wheat extras of low and medium qualities have been offered more freely, and to effect sales promptly some decline has been submitted to. Winter seconds are very plenty and unsaleable. Amber winter wheat extras of low grade are plenty—indeed, the supply is largely in excess of the wants of the domestic trade, hence millers must make up their minds to have them sold for shipment, and prices much below those current for the low grades of White wheat extras. Thus far our receipts of choice white wheat family extras have been far below the general expectation, and it is very evident farmers are not disposed to part with their best wheat. It is undoubtedly true that much of the winter wheat at the Southwest was injured badly in July, hence we do not look for excessive supplies of choice family extras. Good superfine and No. 2 have been in demand and close strong. Much of the flour to hand this week was previously sold, and we notice a large increase in our exports. The demand for the future has been light, but holders are not in market to any extent, and nothing of moment has been done. A large business has been done in City Ground, for the London market, at $6.65@7. The exports of the week are 45,599 brls, against 24,588 brls, the corresponding week last year.—Tribune.

Philadelphia Iron Market.—Monthly Review.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Following is from the monthly circular of Edward Samuel: American Pig Iron is still without movement of note, although in the early part of the month, from the inquiries afloat a moderately active trade was anticipated. It is needless to say that the present financial panic has entirely destroyed such anticipations. Prices are purely nominal, most of the producers preferring to carry the iron than take four months paper, which, in the present condition of affairs is useless. Would quote nominally for standard makes at furnace for No 1 $38@40, No. 2 $32@34; No. 3 $29@30, although we have heard of offerings at considerably lower figures for cash.

Scotch Pig is in but light stock here, and the demand confined entirely to five and ten ton lots which have been sold at $50@51 for Eglinton. In New York where the stock is entirely in the hands of one or two parties, prices are $50@51,50 for Coltness; $50 for Gartsherrie: $47 for Summerlee and Glengarnock, and $46 for Eglinton. The last English prices, under date Liverpool, September 17th, are as follows: F. O. B. in the Clyde, Gartsherrie 130s, Coltness 132s 6c, Summerlee 125s, Langloan 125s, Calder 235s, Carnbroe 123s, Glengarnock 125c, Dalmellington 120s, Eglinton 120s, F. O. B. Liverpool about 7s per ton more all around.

Exports to the United States for the month of August	7,235 tons.
Exports to the United States for eight months, ending August 30	78,406 tons.
Stock of Pig Iron in store, Glasgow 25th December, 1872	104,910 tons.
Stock of Pig Iron in store, Glasgow 12th September, 1873	41,386 tons
Decrease	65,533 tons.

The above figures are materially higher than those of July and August, although about three shillings ℔ ton lower than the highest price reached during the month. The demand has been principally for the continent, the United States taking but very little.

Rails have been in light demand with constantly receding figures, and the future outlook is anything but promising. Already wages have been reduced from 10 to 15 ℔ cent at several of the large works, and unless a change occurs in the market many of the mills will undoubtedly have to suspend work. American makes are held at about $75 at mills, and $65 gold is the asking price for English in New York.

Old Rails are exceedingly dull, with no transactions. Prices are weak, notwithstanding firmness on the other side. Double Heads are held at $49@50; Ts $47@46.

Merchant Bars are low in price and dull of sale. In the early part of the month orders were more plenty, the warehouse men having pretty well sold out their old stock, and desiring to replenish at the exceedingly low prices prevailing. Sales in Pittsburgh for eastern accounts were reported as low as 3c, at which price it is believed business can be done at present for cash. Regarding the sale of American Bars in Liverpool about the middle of the month, it is undoubtedly a fact that no American iron could be sold there at the price named without heavy loss, and the transaction was no doubt for the purpose of depressing wages in that country.

Wrought Scrap is in very scanty supply for prime lots, and in fair demand for small parcels. Sales were made during the month at $45 for superior selections, but about $40 for general lots is a fair quotation.

For the past five months there has been a natural and easy decline in the price of both raw and manufactured iron, which would have resulted in a healthy trade this fall or winter had the present financial difficulties not occured. New however, the outlook barring some few specialities in manufactured iron, is uniformly depressing. The old and new railroad companies, consuming directly about 1,200,000 tons per annum, and indirectly half as much more, will necessarily be curtailed in their purchases, and this, together with the increased production, will undoubtedly produce a sluggish trade the coming winter, and perhaps require a suspension of production for some months to come. The trade generally has, however, had several prosperous years, and is perhaps in a better position to suspend operations, if needs be, than ever before. The price of labor will no doubt be materially affected, and we look forward to much lower wages for many months to come.

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary, and the prospects for a rise are just about as remote as ever. We heard an old river man assert the other day that it is a rare thing to have a rise in October, although we are in hopes that this October will be an exception. Weather clear and cold.

Robert McIntyre, who for 25 years steamboated on the Monongahela river, mostly in the capacity of mate, died at Brownsville, on Saturday last, in the 46th of his age. Deceased leaves a wife and three children.

Commodore Adam Jacobs was in town yesterday.

—The Cincinnati Gazette of Monday says: Captain George Rowley arrived here Saturday, and was waiting for the government survey boat to make her appearance from Marietta, when he goes to French Island to inspect the work done there for the improvement of the river on behalf of the government. Captain Cole, the contractor for the work, and one or two other gentlemen, are on board. Captain Cole has a crane boat at work on the river below Parkersburg, which has been fitted up with a large grapple, for the special purpose of removing large rocks and bowlders. Rocks that are fixed in place will first be broken up by blasting. Captain Cole reports that he has entirely removed the rocks that so much interfered with navigation at the foot of Mustapha Island. He says: "Commencing opposite the foot of dry bar at the foot of the island we removed all those rocks in the outside ledge, lying in the natural course of the draught of the water, making three feet of water all the way down to the point, there being but two feet by the marks at Kennedy's old mill. Boats can run within eighty feet of shore the whole length of the ripple, thereby avoiding the out draught on the outside reef." He has also removed 2 stumps from the channel at the foot of Newberry, all the projecting rocks on the Ohio side of the Virginia channel, pier of the Parkersburg bridge, one snag from the channel just below the Harmar boatyard, and another just below Finch's stone works.

—A Cincinnati telegram under date of Tuesday says: Money matters here appear better, with increasing confidence on the part of merchants. The manufactories did not close on Saturday, as reported they would, although many are now running on half and three quarter time. A private dispatch reports a heavy frost at Memphis last night. This will be a godsend to the sufferers there. Very heavy frost here last night. Weather clear and cool. River three feet eleven inches and stationary. The new steamer Cherokee, belonging to Byers & Wolf, will raise steam on Saturday. Wm. A. Burton, who was clerk on the Magnolia when she exploded near this city, several years ago, and has lately been filling the position of Deputy Sheriff over in Kentucky, was killed near Paris, Ky., yesterday.

—The Alex Mitchell sunk at Keithsburg, Ill., Friday night near the landing in about 8 feet of water, and the steamer Red Wing was engaged in pumping her out. The Mitchell was en route from Fulton to Dubuque to be repaired and had no freight or passengers on board. She will be easily raised. She is not insured.

—Quarantine was established at Cairo Saturday. A tug with medical examiners meets and examines boats in the bend below the city, and will remove the sick or prohibit boats from landing, as the case may require.

—The Bismarck, D. T., Tribune of September 24th, says: Commodore Kountz has been in the city for several days, looking after his interests here.

—The Peninah, Ida Stockdale, and May Lowry will winter at Bismarck. The latter will be engaged until the close of navigation in transferring between Bismarck and Fort Lincoln.

—The Warner goes on the ways at St. Louis for repairs.

HOME NEWS.

Gas in Allegheny.

The Allegheny Committee of Councils on Gas met last evening and approved the quarterly bills for lighting the city building and public lamps, amounting to $5,101, and sundry other bills, and also ordered the erection of eight gas lamps.

Till Tappers Taken.

James Kemp, William Kane and A. J. Reynolds, were last evening arrested for tapping the till of Dougherty's saloon, corner of Wylie avenue and Roberts street. They were placed in the eleventh ward station house, and will have a hearing this morning before the Mayor.

Keystone Social Circle.

At a meeting of the Keystone Social Circle, held at their rooms on Wood street, on Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, W. S. Brauff; Vice President, Miss Mattie Boulton; Secretary, C. L. Hannan; Financial Secretary, W. C. Connelly; Treasurer, Miss Alice Atkinson. The Circle propose to give a grand soiree shortly.

European Steamship Arrivals Yesterday.

A dispatch received at Max Schamberg's European steamship and telegraph office, at No. 163 Smithfield street, announces the arrival of the Cunard line steamer Java, at New York; Inman line steamer City of Montreal, at Queenstown; Cunard line steamer Abyssinia, at Queenstown; National line steamer Egypt, at Queenstown; Anchor line steamer Europe, at Moville.

Thoburn's Troubles.

Yesterday Mr. James Thoburn, of East Birmingham, was lodged in jail by Deputy Mayor Barker, to answer a charge of adultery, preferred against him by Mr. Charles S. Fetterman. Thoburn is comparatively a young man and is proprietor of a boarding house on the South Side. He is charged with holding an improper relationship with a former domestic at his house, and stands committed upon the complaint made by the girl and upon this second information.

Fireman's Fore-arm Fractured.

Yesterday afternoon William Wilson was thrown from the hose carriage, which collided with a wagon on Penn avenue, in Lawrenceville, opposite the arsenal, and was very badly injured. One of his fore-arms was broken in three places, his nose was broken and his face was badly bruised, and he is believed to have been seriously hurt internally. He was taken to his residence in Lawrenceville and properly attended to.

Gas Companies' War.

The old monopoly is again on the war path and begins to show an uneasiness, since the Consolidated Gas Co. are taking away their consumers. But a few months ago the managers of the old monopoly laughed at the idea of opposition, but the people who were ruled by an iron rod when they couldn't better themselves, now breathe in a different atmosphere, and orders are pouring in daily to the Consolidated Co. to hurry up, and make attachments to their meters. We are informed by those who have the Consolidated gas, that it is much better gas, and their bills are about one-half. If the old Company is scared why don't they lower the price of gas. It is a well known fact, that they can afford to furnish gas at two-thirds the present price, and then make twenty per cent. on their investment.

Election of Directors.

The Stockholders of the Brownsville and Geneva Slackwater Navigation Company held their annual meeting yesterday on the Brownsville Wharf-Boat, in this city. There was a full attendance. At the appointed hour the balloting took place, which resulted in the election of the following gentlemen as directors: Adam Jacobs, Benjamin Coursin, Isaac Woodward, William H Holmes, James Reese, Charles E. Speer, Geo. E. Hogg.

Immediately after the election, the directors met and re-elected the former President, Adam Jacobs, and continued Mr. J. Bowman McKelvey as Secretary. We congratulate the Company on securing the services for the next year of two such efficient officers as Mr. Jacobs and Mr. McKelvey.

Exciting Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon a runaway occurred on Fifth avenue that created some excitement for a time, but fortunately was not attended with serious results. A horse attached to a light spring wagon by some means became frightened, broke away from its fastening in front of Dr. McCook's office, and started down the avenue at a rattling pace. The people cleared the track, and the animal had it all its own way until opposite the postoffice, when the vehicle to which it was attached became entangled with a light barouche, in which were seated a lady and gentleman. Happily the runaway horse veered a little to one side, and the wheels ran up over the hub of the other vehicle, and prevented a smash-up. Getting clear of this obstruction, the horse continued on its way, overturning another wagon, and finally being caught up at Wood street. A little girl was knocked down near Wood street by the wagon, but miraculously escaped serious injury, being only stunned for a short time.

Fire Alarm—Collisions—Accidents.

An alarm of fire was sounded about eleven o'clock yesterday morning from box 64, corner of Twenty eighth street and Penn avenue. The fire department were promptly on hand, but no fire could be discerned in that vicinity. The Lawrenceville hose carriage, in coming down Penn avenue, ran into a coal wagon at the corner of Thirty-ninth street. One of the hind wheels of the wagon was torn off, and two wheels of the hose carriage completely demolished. The hose carriage was turned over, and fell upon James Wilson, one of the hose men, breaking his right arm, and otherwise bruising him. Mr. Shook, foreman, was thrown some distance by the force of the collision, and fell upon the pavement. He was considerably bruised, but no bones were broken. The driver was also hurt, but not seriously. At about the same time a collision occurred between the J. McC. Creighton hose carriage and Trimble's Varieties band wagon, on Smithfield street, near Fifth avenue, which resulted in breaking the back spring to the hose carriage.

Death of a Former Pittsburgher.

The Republican and Banner, of Nashville, under date of October 1st, makes mention of the demise of a former Pittsburgher, saying: "Robert Lusk died at his residence on Vine street at half-past six o'clock last evening at the advanced age of 76 years. Mr. Lusk was born in Allegheny county, near Pittsburgh, in 1797, came to Nashville early in life and opened the first clothing store established at this place. He had for years past, however, been a prominent broker and banker. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church here for forty years. Few persons have sustained so excellent a character as he did throughout the long period of his existence. It was without spot or blemish. He was ever kind and affable, and charitably disposed toward every one. His death will be regretted by all good citizens."

Many of the friends of Mr. Lusk's earlier years are still living in this vicinity who will heartily endorse the merited appreciation of this obituary, and who will hear with feelings of genuine sadness, of the death of, one whom as companion and friend, they were glad to own and honor.

VEHICLE VAMOSED.

A Doctor's Rig Stolen.

Dr. Graham, of Temperanceville, yesterday visited a patient out on Fifth avenue extension, and left his horse and buggy standing unhitched and alone. After he got through with his case, he came out, only to be disappointed by the disappearance of his rig. He concluded that walking was healthy and took a stroll towards Mayor Blackmore's office, where he left his information, and Detective Herron was sent to hunt up the lost vehicle and horse, but up to a very late hour last evening had not succeeded in recovering it.

INDEPENDENT LABOR PARTY.

Meeting of the Candidates Last Evening.

Last evening the candidates of the Independent Labor party held a meeting at their rooms in the English building on Fourth avenue. The favorable success of the county ticket was discussed, and many of the speakers talked very hopeful of their prospects. The various vigilance committees for the different wards, boroughs and townships were appointed and reports were received of the doings of the party in various sections of the cities and county. The following was adopted:

Resolved, That the Independent Labor party, through their Executive Committee, urgently request the hearty co-operation of all workingmen of whatever handicrafts in the county to elect the present Labor Ticket, and that they also solicit the aid and sympathy, and support of the general public to secure the election of that ticket. The meeting then adjourned.

MONDAY'S EXPLOSION.

The Condition of the Men Yesterday.

The fire at the National Pipe Foundry of Messrs. Smith & Sons broke out afresh about half past twelve o'clock yesterday morning; but was extinguished by the "Independence" company's steamer, without an alarm. The fire was discovered by Mr. R. H. Smith, who happened on the ground at the time, he having just returned from visits to his injured men. Four watchmen were on the premises, but strange to say, none of them discovered the smouldering blaze. Mr. Smith had Pat. Finney removed from his boarding house on Twenty-eighth street to more congenial quarters, yesterday, and his physicians, Drs. Asdale and Hieber, have strong hopes of his recovery. Frazier was very low yesterday, but his physicians think they see favorable symptoms in his case. He is not able to speak. The other men are doing well.

M'CULLY'S WEALTH.

The Estimated Value of the M'Cully's Estate Over $1,200,000.

Yesterday afternoon Register Gray held another little seance in reference to the token of friendship valued at $75,000 given by Mr. M'Cully to Mr. Clark. The only witness on the stand was Major Wm. Frew, and his testimony was devoid of any public interest generally, however much it may have been interesting to the disputants. During the examination however, one point was brought out, about which people,—although it was none of their business—have been speculating,—and that was in reference to the value of the estate left by the deceased. Mr. Frew in answer to inquiries, said that Mr. M'Cully left personal property to the amount of $350,000, and real estate which at a fair estimate, would increase the amount of his wealth to one million two hundred thousand dollars. He had endorsed notes for Mr. Clark to the amount of $35,000, and was surety on several bonds of public officers, but otherwise had been rather cautious in affixing his signature to any paper.

The hearing in the case will be continued on Friday, and it is thought the matter will then be closed so far as the Register is concerned.

SECOND AVENUE GRADE.

The Dispute About It Between the Commissioners and the Connellsville Railroad Company—Meeting of Road, Survey and Street Committees Last Night—The Matter Thoroughly Considered and Discussed—The Propositions for a Compromise, and How They Were Acted On.

Last evening a conference of the Street, Road and Survey Committees was held in the chamber of the Common Council, to hear the report of the sub-committees, appointed some time ago to consider the difficulties between the Connellsville Railroad and Second Avenue Commissioners touching the alleged encroachments by the city on the Railroad at various points along the avenue.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The report of the sub committee is as follows:

To the Joint Committees on Streets, Roads and Survey:

GENTLEMEN: Your sub-committee would respectfully submit herewith the proposition agreed upon by them to be submitted to the officers of the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Company for their consideration.

A. L. PEARSON, Chairman.

WHAT IS PROPOSED.

The Railroad Company:

First. To extend the bridge over the track on Second avenue at Cross street to the full width of the avenue.

Second. To build retaining walls at the points of interference—Dam No. 1, Connolly's, Breckinridge street, Pittsburgh Gas Company, Bates street to Greenfield avenue.

Third. To build a bridge over Boundary St.

The city to:

First: To relieve the Railroad Company from payment of any damages caused by the grade at Cross street at Evans' mill.

Second. To change the location of Second avenue at Connolly's and the Gas Company's property.

OPPOSING THE PROPOSITION.

Mr. E. P. Jones moved that the report of the sub committee be disapproved and the committee discharged. He was a member of the sub-committee; had been cut on Second avenue, but had left before action was taken. Mr. Laufman opposed the motion. Mr. Burgwin was opposed to the motion, and was also opposed to the proposition offered because it was one which they could not recommend for adoption by Councils, but merely by a joint meeting to approve or reject. He wanted a report which the sub-committee could urge Councils to adopt.

Mr. Rafferty had been opposed to the proposition, but after hearing that the Railroad Company had the right to place their tracks wherever they pleased, he thought it best that the city should take the best they could.

Mr. Jones thought the report of the sub-committee was not offered in earnest, but merely a buncombe.

Mr. Burgwin wanted an ordinance that could be taken up and discussed section by section, not an unintelligible proposition. All would end in talk unless this was done.

THE PROPOSITION EXPLAINED.

Mr. Kirk, on behalf of the sub committee, explained that the time was too short to draw up an ordinance. The propositions submitted were not intended as a joke, but offered in dead earnest.

Mr. Lewis, of the Second avenue Commission, corrected some of the statements made by Mr. Kirk. The street was not by any means on paper. Monuments were found, as could be seen, which had been planted thirty-two years ago. The people did not allow the Railroad Company to place the tracks on the street, but the company took forcible possession when the railroad was built.

Mr. Bigelow, the City Attorney, explained what his opinion was. The Railroad Company had a right to go on the street, but the city can compel them to conform to the city grades. The matter was in Court, and these propositions are made for the purpose of expediting the settlement of the difficulties.

Mr. Evan Jones strongly appealed for the rights of the large manufacturing district which he represented.

ASKING FOR ANOTHER SUB-COMMITTEE.

Mr. Burgwin moved for the appointment of a committee of five to retire and report an intelligible proposition.

Mr. Jones withdrew his motion, and moved to receive the report and discharge the sub-committee. Carried.

Mr. Burgwin here renewed his motion, which prevailed.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Burgwin, E. P. Jones, Fulton, Lauffman and Follansbee.

The committee then retired to the adjoining room, followed by the City Solicitor and the Second avenue Commissioners, and a recess was taken by the conference.

AFTER THE RECESS.

The Committee was absent about a half an hour, when they returned, and their chairman (Mr. Burgwin) reported verbally, advising the city to cede to the railroad company twelve feet at the side of the avenue where the track and the street interfere; that the company purchase twelve feet on the side of the avenue opposite the track, to be used as a sidewalk; that the sidewalk on the east side be dispensed with; that the company finish the bridge at Cross street; build all walls necessary to retain the banks on the sine of the north curbstone, and cause the street to be widened wherever needed to give the street a forty eight feet width, and that the Committee be continued, with authority to submit the proposition to the company; draft an ordinance embodying the proposition for its basis, and report to a future meeting of the joint committee.

Messrs. Rafferty and Kirk regarded the proposition just submitted as impracticable.

Mr. Burgwin again argued the subject at some length, and explained several points of law involved.

Mr. Kirk also spoke at length, and Dr. Gross expressed his views.

Mr. Rafferty moved as a substitute, that the report of the first committee be adopted.

Dr. Gross moved an amendment to refer all propositions to Mr. Burgwin's committee.

Mr. Dannals moved that the committees adjourn till Thursday evening, so that they might take a rest, and discuss the question further if necessary. Not seconded.

Dr. Gross' amendment was then voted on and lost.

The Clerk then again read the report of the first committee.

Mr. Rafferty's motion was then voted on and lost by a vote of 13 to 2.

Mr. Burgwin's report was then adopted, and Dr. Gross and Mr. Pearson added to the committee which was continued.

On motion adjourned.

SUFFERING MEMPHIS.

Measures for Relief—The Contributions from Pittsburgh—A Committee to Secure Subscriptions—The Condition of Things in the City.

The second of the meetings called to take measures for the relief of Memphis was held yesterday afternoon at Municipal Hall, and was not much of an improvement upon its predecessor, in point of numbers at least. There were not more than a score of persons present, but these were in earnest.

Half an hour after the appointed time, when those who were on hand promptly had almost wearied waiting, the meeting was called to order by Mayor Blackmore, who then read a message from the Mayor of Memphis, in which an urgent appeal was made for help. His Honor stated that a number of prominent citizens had promised to be present at the meeting, but, though they had not come, he felt sure they could be relied upon for their share in the contributions. He hoped Pittsburgh would maintain its reputation in this instance, as it had won an honorable record in the past. He believed, if the proper efforts were made, $10,000 could be raised before Saturday.

Captain R. C. Gray stated that already many persons had forwarded their contributions, and he thought many more could be secured by the appointment of a committee to solicit. He further suggested that all the pastors of the churches hereabouts be requested to take up collections next Sunday for the Relief Fund.

A motion to appoint a committee was carried, and the Chair named Messrs. R. C. Gray, chairman, Wm. Thaw, A. H. Gross, Edward Craig, J. M. Shoonmaker, Captain W. S. Parker, Captain J. K. Dorrington, David Kirk, Gen. J. S. Negley, Hon. James Blackmore, Mark Watson, John R. McCune, J. A. J. Smith, Joseph Walton, N. J. Bigley, James P. Barr, Russell Errett, Dan. O'Neill, Josiah King, J. J. Seibeneck, R. P. Nevin, Thomas MacConnell and Wm. Neeb.

The Chair then read a communication from City Superintendent Luckey, setting forth that Miss Potter would give an entertainment in Library Hall, Thursday evening, for the benefit of the sufferers.

Mr. Luckey, on motion, was appointed to make arrangements for the entertainment, and to appoint a committee of citizens to assist him.

The Chair also announced the receipt of $10 cash from Mr. J. D. Bernd, and further said that a number of our coal merchants had ordered their agents in Memphis to give coal to all who were suffering for want of it.

Col. Schoonmaker said the condition of things could hardly be realized. It was really desperation with the people of Memphis. As an instance, he said, there were about three thousand orphans thrown upon the city who would have to be taken care of during the winter. The people were suffering for the actual necessaries of life.

A resolution requesting the pastors of the churches to take up collections as suggested was then passed, and the meeting adjourned.

DEMANDING THE RECORD.

The State Treasury Accounts—An Inquisitive Litigant—An Appeal to the Supreme Court.

Yesterday morning Mr. W. D. Moore presented in the Supreme Court a petition from J. M. Kreiter, of Harrisburg, praying for a rule on General Harrison Allen, General Auditor, to command him to show cause why a mandamus should not be issued against him to compel a production for public inspection of the books in which are kept the accounts of the State Treasury. The petitioner is a member of the Democratic Committee of Dauphin county, and was appointed by that committee to examine into the accounts at the Auditor General's office, but claims that permission was refused him. He sets forth in his petition "that on Thursday, the second day of October, 1873, your petitioner, in company with J. C. McAlarney and George J. Shoemaker, visited the office of the Auditor General, and found it in charge of D. C. Maurer and others, the Auditor General himself being absent. They requested permission to see the books, and were referred to W. H. Patterson, who had charge of the record book, and that Patterson refused to permit them to see the book." Being thus refused, he seeks legal redress from the Supreme Court.

Accompanying the petition were affidavits of the other gentlemen who went with the petitioner.

The attorney for the petitioner desired a rule, made returnable on Monday next, but Chief Justice Read said that the respondent could not be brought into court without giving him ten days' notice. The rule accordingly was made returnable on the 17th inst., at 10 o'clock A. M.

LET US HAVE LIGHT!

The Pittsburgh Gas Company vs. the Consolidated Gas Company — Interesting Court Proceedings.

Yesterday in the Court of Common Pleas, John Barton, Esq., filed a bill in Equity between the Pittsburgh Gas Company and the President and Directors of the Consolidated Gas Company. The bill sets forth that in all the acts of assembly and ordinance relating to the organization of the Pittsburgh Gas Company, it is expressly agreed by the city that the Company shall erect and keep in repair the gas lamps throughout the entire city, and furthermore that they shall also furnish all the gas required for consumption in the public street lamps, market houses, council chambers and public offices of the city, at rates which are specified, private consumers to have the gass at a price not exceeding $1 60 per 1,000 feet.

After reciting other miner grivances, it is alleged that the Consolidated Gas Co., have constructed gas works and opened the streets and laid their pipes, and furthermore that they have ordered off the workmen of the plaintiff, and have threatened them with personal violence, while they were lawfully at work attending the premises of the company—plaintiff.

The plaintiffs rely upon the unconstitutionality of the act incorporating the company, for in Article XII. it is stated the bill is in conflict with the Constitution of the Commonwealth, which provides "that no bill shall be passed by the Legislature containing more than one subject, except appropriation bills." It is also in conflict with the State law providing "that no law shall be passed impairing the obligation of contracts;" and the United States Constitution also provides that no law shall be passed impairing the obligation of contracts.

The plaintiffs therefore ask that the act of incorporation be declared unconstitutional; that the respondents may be enjoined from digging or placing any more gas pipes in streets or avenues occupied with the pipes of the Pittsburgh Company, and that the city of Pittsburgh be restrained from assisting the defendants in any manner, and from authorizing or permitting them to open any of the streets, or supplying the citizens generally with gas. John Barton, Esq., and F. Carroll Brewster appear for the plaintiff.

MINOR SUSPENSIONS.

Being Little Cases that Were Brought Before Alderman McMasters Yesterday.

Yesterday Mr. William Minsinger, with a sad face and a sorrowing heart, appeared before Alderman McMasters, and then, in the glowing sadness of his soul, did a harrowing tale unfold. Mr. Minsinger runs a feed store for the benefit of horses and cattle, and consequently, for the benefit of the human race. Thomas Hackett is wise, and, as Mr. M. says, not honest. He alleges that Hackett, bearing a pleasing countenance and with a gleaming smile of triumph in his eye, came to him one day and said that horses without number were his; that he had a huge contract for building an unlimited number of miles of railroad, and that his lands on Mount Washington numbered acres. Mr. M. says that under these rash promises he allowed Mr. Hackett $8 30 worth of feed, and now he finds that the defendant is in the county jail. A warrant was issued.

But sadder than the above is the following: Mr. John Patrick is a member of the American Horse Collar Manufacturing Society, and he charges Mr. Thomas Flynn before Alderman McMasters with embezzling $17 50 funds of the society. He alleges that some time since Mr. Flynn was elected Treasurer of that society, and when he got the amount stated above in his possession, he suspended payment. Defendant was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. Dominick Murray is meeting with deserved success in his play "Escaped from Sing Sing." The drama, while it is sensational, conveys a moral lesson, and for that reason deserves all the attention given to it. Mr. Murray is well sustained, and the various characters as enacted give full satisfaction. The scenery is good. Seats can be had at the box office during the day.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—M'lle Kathi Lanner and her celebrated combination, in conjunction with the Peak family, are giving a most excellent entertainment at this place of amusement. Last evening the house was well filled. To-day at two o'clock a grand extra matinee will be given at the low rate of admission of twenty-five and fifty cents. This evening the troupe appear in their novelties. Seats can be had at the office during the day.

LIBRARY HALL.—On Monday evening next the famous Vokes family appear in a decidedly rich and novel entertainment, in which they are said to excel.

ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS.

The Controller's Deliberations Last Night—New Teachers Appointed—The Question of the Board's Power—The Attendance at the Schools—The City Superintendent.

The Allegheny Board of School Controller's met last night in the Common Council Chamber.

The proceedings were opened with prayer by the Rev. Joseph King.

The Secretary having forgotten the printed roll of membership hied away to get it, and the Board spent the interval of waiting in meditation.

The roll being called about eight o'clock, it was found that a quorum was present.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were approved.

The minutes of the Convention at which a City Superintendent was elected were also read, but as Mr. Riggs raised the point that the Board could not approve the minutes of the Convention, the point was decided well taken by the chair.

The Sixth Ward Board reported the election of Miss Emma B. Means as teacher in the Primary Department. Approved.

THE "TAX COLLECTION" SQUABBLE.

Mr. Hobson, from the Committee on Finance, reported they had before them the resolution referred to them in relation to the compensation to be paid to ward collectors of school taxes, and after considering the matter had passed a resolution recommending the payment of the additional five per cent. demanded by the collectors.

The report was received.

Mr. Marthens thought the Board of Control had no right to interfere with the local Boards in this matter. And further, the law especially set forth how much could be allowed for making the collections. This resolution, giving five per cent. more, was a clear attempt to ride over the law, and he objected to it as illegal.

Mr. Hobson said they did not gainsay what had been said, but that they were prepared to show that the advance was just and proper, and that the city made money by it. Experience had proven that. The amount fixed by the law was not a sufficient remuneration to the collectors, and they would not undertake the work. By giving this five per cent. additional they had found the collections increased twenty per cent. He thought the Board was not compelled to hold to the exact words of the law. The law gave the Board discretionary power. Pittsburgh gave ten per cent. to collect these taxes, and found it wise.

Mr. Hamilton thought that might all be true, but if the collectors were to be paid more money, the matter should be gone about in a legal way.

Mr. Marthens thought the Board would present a peculiar spectacle if brought into Court for violating the law, and it would come to that if they passed the resolution.

Mr. Donaldson raised the point of order that the Board had no power to entertain a resolution, which, if passed, would be a violation of law.

The Chair decided the point well taken, and closed the discussion.

Mr. Riggs called up his motion, made at the last meeting, to expunge from the minutes the resolution passed February 4th, 1873, declaring the Board not to be a continuous body.

Mr. Smith raised the point that it might be repealed, but no action of the Board could be expunged.

Mr. Riggs then struck out the word "expunge" and inserted "repeal."

A discussion now sprung up as to whether last year's Board continued in authority until the new Board was organized, or whether each Board did not die at the end of the year for which it was organized—that is, whether business left unfinished by one Board died with it, or could be taken up and finished by a new Board.

The speakers having exhausted their legal and parliamentary lore upon the point in dispute, the resolution, by a decided majority, was repealed.

Mr. Smith, from the Third Ward Board, reported the election of Miss Josie M. Crawford as teacher in the Third ward. Approved.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Secretary read a number of bills, for which warrants were ordered.

Mr. Smith reported that the Third Ward Board had resolved unanimously not to elect a Principal at present to fill the vacancy occasioned by the election of Mr. Davis to the City Superintendency.

Mr. Hamilton presented a communication from the First Ward Board recommending the selection of Mr. W. J. Lyon as Collector of delinquent school taxes for that ward.

It was decided under the strict letter of the law that the Board had nothing to do with the appointment of Collectors, that being the duty of the Finance Committee of City Councils.

Mr. Marthens offered a series of resolutions, giving power to a minority of a committee to transact business if a majority was not present at the appointed hour.

The resolutions were referred to the Committee on Rules and Regulations, together with a speech read by the gentleman in reference to the subject.

Mr. Smith moved that Osgood spellers be retained in the schools for the coming year—a mistake having been made in the Committee's printed report. Agreed to.

Mr. Hobson moved that the Board meet hereafter at seven instead of half past seven. Laid over under the rules.

The Secretary read a report showing the average attendance in the schools for September to be 6,675, and the total enrollment 7,818. The salaries paid to teachers during the month were in the aggregate $9,360. The balance in the Depository was $56,927.76. The interest on balances for September was $194 30.

Mr. Eaton moved that Prof. Davis, City Superintendent, be invited to a seat in the Board hereafter. Carried.

Mr. Hamilton—I move that all the Principals be invited to seats in the Board.

The members exchanged smiles, but took no action.

Mr. Hamilton offered a resolution that it was the sense of the Board that hereafter the compensation paid to collectors of delinquent taxes be only the added five per cent.

The resolution was declared out of order.

Mr. Eaton moved the appointment of a Committee to prepare a schedule of rules for the City Superintendent, and secure him an office.

Mr. Marthens moved to assign it to the new Committee on Economy and Retrenchment.

Mr. Golden said the law defined the Superintendent's duties, and he was opposed to trammeling him with new regulations from a committee. It was supposed he was qualified to fill the position, and hardly needed to be bossed over by a committee.

The matter was referred to the committee.

Adjourned.

JUDGE POTTS' CASE.

The Argument in the Supreme Court—The Point Upon Which the Question Hinges.

The case of Judge Potts, of Johnstown, came up for argument in the Supreme Court yesterday morning. Mention was made yesterday of the fact that this was an effort to oust Judge Potts from the President Judgeship of a District Court established at Johnstown, Cambria county,—Johnstown not being the county seat and the act creating the District Court to be held there being a special one.

Deputy Attorney General Gilbert appeared for the State. He alleged nothing against Judge Potts in his personal or judicial capacity, but argued that the whole matter hinged on a question as to the constitutionality of the act of 1869, establishing the court. Judge Taylor has held the office before Judge Potts, and had been ousted by the Supreme Court. Subsequently the Governor appointed Judge Potts, who was afterward duly elected by the people. It was claimed, however, that if the one Judge could not hold the office, it was not a legal office for the other—if the act was wrong in one point, it was wrong in all.

Hon. Henry D. Foster followed in behalf of Judge Potts. He held that the act of '69 distinctly established this court, but the provision restricting the office to Judge Taylor was undoubtedly unconstitutional. Judge Taylor could not be competent for the office, as he was never elected. Besides no judge could hold two offices of profit, and Judge Taylor at the time was holding another judgeship.

These were the points of the case which were argued at great length on both sides. Senator Scott who appeared for Judge Potts, closed the argument.

NEW LIFE FOR THE LANGUID.

Perfect health is vouchsafed to few. Probably ninety people out of every hundred who call themselves healthy have their "turns," of langour, exhaustion, depression of spirits and bodily pain. At these times a wineglassful of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is as refreshin as "the shadow of a rock in a weary land." It invigorates and rests the system and cheers the mind. The effect of the Bitters in cases of nervous debility, produced either by undue physical exertion, over-study, intense anxiety, or any other cause, is wonderfully reviving and invigorating. In fact, this healthful vegetable restorative possesses medicinal properties which entitle it to the rank of an article of prime necessity, and it should be kept on hand in every dwelling, and promptly taken as a remedy for all the minor ailments as well as for the more serious complaints.

How to Lighten Woman's Labor.

If "time is money," then everything that tends to facilitate labor is a positive pecuniary benefit to mankind. The best sewing machine or churn is not a "good strong woman," as experience proves. So Sapolio, in enabling one woman to easily do as much cleaning of every kind in one day as two women can do in two days with the scrubbing brush and soap, is a positive blessing to the human race. No woman who has once used it will ever use anything else as a substitute. Sold by all dealers. The cheapest as well as the best cleansing substitute in the world. d&S

THE OLD

"Bank Exchange" Restaurant,

ON

THIRD AVENUE,

Has been undergoing a course of repairs; indeed, it has been almost renovated, and looks as gay and bright as if it were yet in its youth. It has always been the place of good cheer, and its old and numerous patrons will still find the old-time comfort and hospitality within its walls. Another matter (we beg leave to say in confidence to the "good men and true" who have been used from "time immemorial" to resort to this ancient inn) is that the "old man" is home again. Yes, they will again be greeted by the good-natured smile, the pleasant word and jolly face of good old HENRY SCHILD, who again undertakes the management of the good old place. Under his superintendence the patrons of the house will receive the best attention. Their table will be supplied with all the dainties and delicacies of the season, and their thirst quenched with liquors that cannot be surpassed.

GIVE THE OLD PLACE A CALL.
